

Ideas are the foundation of... everything.

Ideas are the reason you hate getting up in the morning and why you love coming home after a hard days work.

Ideas connect us to loved ones and disconnect us from strangers.

What's true for every idea is that there are no ideas without people, without collaboration.

What if da Vinci never met Verrocchio or if Steve Jobs and Steve Wozniak were never introduced?

Can you image what the world would be like?

Neither can we, that's why we made Xpandu.

Xpandu is this online platform where you, the user, can share your ideas and get feedback from like-minded visionaries

Create projects that others can take part in; post tasks, ask questions, get things done.

If you have your own idea that needs to be shared or want to discover and help other people with their ideas, come check it out and get started at Xpandu.com. Connecting people through great ideas
